

U. S. GOVERNMENT WILL GIVE AID TO FAMILIES OF REDS

Department of Justice Says Those in Need Will Be Cared For.

DECISION REACHED AS MATTER OF GOVT. POLICY

Think Influence in Russia Will Warrant Such Expenditure.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The government has definitely decided to render aid to the dependents of alien radicals whom it deports, Assistant Attorney General Garvan announced today. Action in this direction will be taken purely as a humanitarian measure and not because of any obligations to the famdeportation was a different matter and that because of its possible effect in Russia and other foreign countries it was worth while for the government to care for persons left here unprovided for as a result of the deportation proceedings.

HARVARD PRESIDENT URGES RESERVATIONS

Washington, Jan. 9.—A letter from President Lowell, of Harvard, urging that Democratic senators should not "stand too firmly" against a reservation to Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant, was made public today by Secretary of War.

Although in the past an advocate of unreserved ratification, President Lowell wrote that if Article 10 was a stumbling block to a compromise, the administration might well concede a point.

the real strength of the covenant in preventing wars seems to rest in the economic boycott provisions of Article 16.

"It seems to me," the letter continued, "that Article 19 is not well adapted to promote peace, and does involve obligations which it is not wise to accept."

STEAMER ST. LOUIS IS DAMAGED BY BLAZE

New York, Jan. 9.—Damage to the American line steamer St. Louis which burned at the Hoboken ship yard last night, was estimated at $1,000,000 early today. The interior of the ship was wrecked and her plates badly warped. The origin of the fire is not known. When at midnight the St. Louis listed and settled against the steamer Kroonland it was feared that craft was in

The St. Louis was being refitted as a transport for troops after service in the transport business during the Civil war. Launched at the Cramp ship yard in Philadelphia in 1864 and christened by Mrs. Grover Cleveland, she was the first passenger vessel to be built in this country in more than 20 years.

The St. Louis brought home so many French wives of American soldiers in her later days as a transport that navy men called her the "bridal ship."

WANTS COURT TO STOP

SPECIAL JURY PRONE

Columbus, Jan. 9.—Samuel Doerfler, prosecuting attorney of Cuyahoga county, today appeared before the supreme court of Ohio to argue the suit, testing the constitutionality of the legislative act permitting a special grand jury investigation of crime conditions in Cleveland.

Doerfler asked that the attorney general be ousted from a further investigation, which already has resulted in several indictments and a censoring of Cleveland.

Doerfler said the people of Cleveland resented the action and pointed out that Mayor Davis had been exonerated by the grand jury in office last November by a large vote.

OLD MEN AND OLD WOMEN ARE MAKING GOOD

Hundreds of men and women well along in years have taken a most remarkable new lease on life; are up and doing more than their share of work and enjoying it, not asking favors of anyone.

There is no secret about this. Every man and woman past the prime of life can come back strong, look young, and feel young, in a short time, if they will just follow the laws of nature.

Old people THINK they are worn out because of age, and they feel that way. This is all wrong. One of our leading doctors says that looking and feeling old is due to lack of iron and phosphates in the blood and nerves. When people are young, they have a good supply. As they grow older and draw on this reserve, they commence to run down unless they are wise enough to re-charge their blood and nerves with Phosphated Iron.

Continuing, the doctor said, "Every man and woman along in years can be made strong, keen, healthy and alert, enjoying life's pleasures again if they will simply renew their blood with Iron and Phosphates."

Phosphated Iron makes new, red blood, strengthens the nerves, re-builds energy, renews endurance and often increases the strength of weak or old people one hundred per cent in 2 weeks' time. Thousands of run-down old people who were ailing all the while have surprised their friends with a most astonishing return of health, strength and vitality simply by taking Phosphated Iron. Phosphated Iron is put up in capsules, only, don't take inferior pills or tablets. For sale by Rain turning to snow and back again to rain, made traffic of any kind extremely hard today.

The heaviest snow of the winter fell during the early evening, and was followed by a sleet storm. The Ohio Electric suffered inconvenience on its eastern schedule. The company had cars out breaking the tracks and at Pleasantville one of the trolleys broke, pulling down the trolley wire. No car was able to leave Zanesville until 8 o'clock this morning, arriving in Newark at 9:45 o'clock. The regular car for Zanesville left Newark at 6 o'clock this morning but was unable to get through.

All the fire companies in the city responded to the call but their services were not required. The sprinkling system had acted promptly. It was supposed to be a fire caused by a cigarette stub. The damage was slight.

The little girl's mother is dead and her father has not been supporting her, the court was told. She was brought from near Shawnee and taken to the home of a aunt, Mrs. Toomey. It was alleged that she did not receive the proper treatment and another aunt, Mrs. Lewis, from Mt. Vernon, came to Newark and took the child home with her. The Toomeys complained to Probation Officer Dwyer and he telegraphed Probation Officer Pat Purcell of Knox county and the girl was found living with her aunt in Ashokan avenue, Mt. Vernon. She was brought back to this city and the court case resulted. The mother of the little girl left her a little legacy which she will obtain when she becomes of age.

Had the Right Idea

Under Cyrus the Persians had excellent sanitary ideas, derived from the Egyptians. In talking with his father Cyrus received good advice, to the effect that while physicians could cure sickness in the army, the better course would be not to permit the army to get sick at all. Here was the voice of prevention more than five centuries before Christ.

First Iron Works

Plymouth was the first permanent white settlement in New England and dates its founding from the landing of the Pilgrims, December 21, 1620. The iron works on the banks of the Saugus river, established in 1643, were the first iron works in America. A small iron pit cast there in the first forge in America is now the property of the city of Lynn and is in a glass case in the Lynn public library.

WHY CLOTHING IS EXPENSIVE.

It is claimed by experts, that textile manufacturers could make very substantial and durable clothing, for 25 to 50 per cent under prevailing figures, out of the coarser wools. But the public they say, demands the finest grades. So production has to be organized on the most expensive scale. It would seem probable that the same condition enhances the price of other fabrics.

The sale of these coarse but substantial goods is promoted where producers make an effort to have them attractive. Some manufacturers seem to reserve their good colors and patterns for their expensive goods, and they seem to make their cheaper goods unattractive for the direct purpose of throwing the trade to the costly stuff. It ought to be possible to make up coarse but substantial material in a durable way, with tasteful colors and patterns. If that was done, the public would buy it.

COOKING AND DIVORCE.

The superintendent of the Chicago schools has opened what he calls a continuation school, which shall give girls special training in cooking, housekeeping and other domestic duties. The real reason for the epidemic of divorces, he says, is that so many girls know nothing of how to keep up a home. They can't make their husbands comfortable.

Many a fellow has won his bride by liberal treats of ice cream sodas and swell hotel dinners. After they are married, she can keep him loyal by the same bait.

The majority of schools teach her nothing about the care of a home. Mrs. Newby's muffins are proverbially as hard as brickbats. Many a love grows cold over the tragedy of poorly cooked food. This Chicago man, as the slang artists say, has hit the right dope.

So far none of these kind hearted obituary editors has revealed the fact that the good alcohol drinkers ever took a prize for learning and intelligence.

Now if there is another epidemic of strikes, products will become so scarce that the profiteers can jack up prices some more, and a lot more millionaires will be created.

Some people won't work, as they feel that the community needs to have them devote their entire time to giving advice.

Opinion polls among the sports that the prospects of the irrigation movement were never so low as now.

Schools in many places closing for lack of teachers, but the kid element is heroically bearing up.

A PLATFORM PLANK.

Answering a letter from Milton R. Scott of Newark, the Illinois Republican State Committee quoted from a paragraph of the state platform headed "Reconstruction" showing how the Illinois Republican convention handled the question of the League of Nations in 1918 as follows:

For years the enlightened statesmen of the world have sought some means by which differences between nations could be adjusted without a resort to arms. When first the phase "International Law" was employed a world-famous treaty was administered. The chief obstacle to the efforts which civilization was making for the establishment of such a forum was the German empire. For a court of justice in which the nations of the world could have a hearing was directly contrary to the principles of the "kultur" and when the exponent of the kultur shell was broken (this platform was adopted while the war was still raging in the summer of 1918) the time will be ripe for renewed efforts to create such an august tribunal. Our nation should take the lead in such a movement. A nation, historically, is so well fitted to take the leadership, America became a nation because of the insistence of our fathers upon their legal rights. It may be too much to hope that such a court would end all wars. But that the constant tendency would be to diminish in number and limit in extent the future wars of the world we may safely assert.

Nations, it seems that the distinguished governor might fitly answer the distinguished senator by quoting the above declaration of his party in 1918 and saying, whether he adheres to it or repudiates it.

The business interests of the country demand prompt action on the peace treaty, but of course the dignity of the senators must be preserved even if it costs national disaster.

After profound cogitation over the financial situation, expert observers unilaterally declare that if business isn't good it will be bad, and if it isn't bad it will be good.

He tried his best to put it out but it was all burnt up. About this time Less Braine come along an' says he, "I were a-watching your smoke fer quite a while," he says. "Well, why in tarnation didn't you call to me that I were on fire?" says Mr. Neer. "Offie mad," "Gosh," says Less. "They's so many new-fangled contraptions these days I thought mebbe that were the way you run your wagon," he says.

The Brainless Frique.
A man who was vain of his perfect physique. Albeit his brain was uncommonly vague. "How this dwelling with gas fumes does riq'ue!" Go get me a candle—the cause I will sique—No doubt, I shall find it is merely a lique. It was. But no word did he evermore spique!—Sally Brass in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

And when they went round picking up the debris. And found here a foot, there an elbow and knie. They wept as they thought they should nevermore sis. His perfect physique, for it all seemed to bis. Just odds and ends of him, not really his. So they buried the fragments beneath a tall tris. And from vanity now the poor man is quite fris.

Incriminating Evidence.
The average knee is so much better-looking than the average elbow that it sometimes seems as if a mistake had been made in the beginning in not reversing the positions of these two members so the knees would be the ones to show in evening dress, in which we suppose a girl likes to look her best.—Ohio State Journal.

Job was a man of considerable native intelligence though of comparatively little schooling, and he once shrewdly observed, "Mine own mouth shall condemn me," and the question involuntarily occurs to the mind as to how much data would have to be secured in order to strike a fair average.

Hot.
A married man named Henry Hind Lives in a house that's damp and dim;
And it's so cold he doesn't mind If his wife makes it hot for him.
—Luke McLuke.

But in the summer Henry Hind Tries hard to find the coolest nook; He acts as if he would not mind If it would freeze him with a look.
—Canton (O.) News.

And blow she hot or blow she cold. The law can't touch her in that State; The dries trimmed Henry, but we hold His wife is still intemperate.

Did You Know
That Pachacamal is the oldest city in America? It is in Peru, not far from the capital, Lima. It is thought to date back to about 3,000 years before Columbus discovered America. The city was apparently surrounded by a wall eight feet thick and thirteen feet high. The streets were paved and were thirteen feet or less in width. There is evidence in the ruins that there were once magnificent temples here, roofed and decorated with gold and ornamented with precious stones. These temples were probably used in the worship of the sun. The city now consists largely of graves, more than 80,000 graves having been found in one small section. Pachacamal was taken by the Incas, who were in turn captured eventually by the Spaniards.

Oh Fudge!
If Jonas Smith becomes a cop And takes his duties up forthwith, Would you proceed without a stop, To say he is a Copper Smith?
—I. G.

There's a Reason!
He gave up smoking, he tells me. This Oswald boy:
Oh, no, he isn't joking. He Is married now.
—Luke McLuke.

He isn't drinking any more. And this is why. He couldn't stock his cellar, when The town went dry.
—Detroit Free Press.

He isn't swearing any more. And this is why. He swore at his wee wifie, and She blacked his eye.
—Hastings (Neb.) Tribune.

He isn't bragging any more About his stuff. Assessors knocked upon his door And called him bluff.
—Canton (O.) News.

He doesn't stay out late at night And this is why. He's married to a modern girl And dare not lie.
—Aunt Sally Stewart.

Married Strangers
A powerful story dealing with a problem being worked out in thousands of American homes to-day—that of the husband and wife who find they grew apart while the man was off to war.

XLVII.—A Question of Taste.
"Now that is what I call a real gown," cried Anita.

A stately brunette had passed before them and resting one hand lightly on a slim hip and holding the opposite arm gracefully upward, turned slowly for their inspection. She wore a gown of glittering iridescent sequins as chaste and unadorned as a marble column, but depending from one hip and forming a slender pointed train was a sash the color of the heart of flame.

"But I could never wear that shade," protested Keitha in alarm.

"Nonsense, Keitha," put in Bennett. "It's merely a fetish with you. That is a gown which you don't forget in a hurry."

"Certainly. It's as obvious as a brass band," returned Keitha dryly.

"I'm afraid I don't care for the most even type of dress you favor," shrugged Bennett, "give me a dash of crimson in this grey old world."

Anita laughed.

"If you don't find it, you paint it in, don't you, old boy?"

Felice and the model, apparently more familiar than Keitha with the pre-war life of Lester Bennett, giggled.

"That is my choice, Keitha," repeated Bennett firmly, "the rest of the collection have been just clothes. That is a gown."

"I will take it," said Keitha quietly to Felice, determining to be a good sport, but secretly ashamed at the prospect of appearing in it. She felt that a spotlight and a tired-businessman audience were indispensable accessories.

"Excellent!" cried Anita approvingly. "How Betty Arnold would love that gown! She'll be green-eyed with envy when she sees you in it."

She accompanied Keitha to the dressing room and watched two maids book her into it.

"Wonderful," was her verdict, when the task was complete. "I wish I had seen it last week. I'd have taken it myself."

Keitha wiped a trifling tear when she had to face the splash of tulle that was like flame rising from snow.

"I think it makes me look rather pale in contrast, don't you?" she asked, turning around to view herself critically in the mirror.

Add a bit more rouge," advised Anita cheerfully. "Everyone does her face to match her gown nowadays. It's absurd to say that one can't wear this and that."

But there is such a thing as psychology of dress, don't you think? And choosing colors that don't offend your aura.

"Surely you don't really believe anything so absurd!" shrugged Anita. "I don't know what an aura is and I certainly don't let it bother me."

She was sure to deliver that to Mrs. Bennett by six o'clock. Felice, she counted the minutes, and send me a line, if you have any more French importations within the next two weeks. I want first view of them.

Anita led the way from the dressing room and Keitha, lingering to adjust a refractory book, missed a little scene in the shop, but its significance was not lost to her.

She arrived in time to see Anita frowning at Bennett, who was lighting a cigarette with elaborate unconcern while the bronze-haired model who had worn the brown gown Keitha coveted, was vanishing through a curtained archway.

Anita addressed her brother in a sharp undertone. Keitha caught the words: "Don't make a fool of yourself again with Dad only becoming lenient after all this time."

Curiously, it was Keitha and not Bennett who blushed vividly. That young man merely favored his sister with a coolly amused glance and turned to assist Keitha into her coat.

WOMEN OF OHIO—

What Your Neighbors Say

Cleveland, Ohio:—"In my early married life I had woman's trouble. I took medicine of different kinds but did not get any relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two bottles completely cured me of my weakness and I afterward became the mother of strong, healthy children. Favorite Prescription made a new woman of me and I am glad to recommend it. I want to say that women who are weak and ailing should give this wonderful woman's medicine a trial."—Mrs. EMMA STROMMEYER, 2460 E. 82nd St.

Findlay, Ohio:—"For many years I have been a user of Dr. Pierce's medicine and have found them excellent. I have taken 'Favorite Prescription' for an ailment from which so many women suffer and it proved very beneficial. 'I have taken the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and found it excellent as a spring tonic or blood purifier and for deep-seated cures."

"I found the 'Pleasant Pellets' especially good for constipation, bilious attacks and as a liver regulator."

"The above medicines are all good and I take pleasure in recommending them to others."—Mrs. MARY VINTON, 339 Wilson St.

Ellyria, Ohio:—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the very best tonic a woman can take. I had become all run-down and so nervous I could not sleep. I had no appetite and having heard of 'Favorite Prescription' I decided to give it a trial, and the results were very satisfactory to me for it built me up and made me feel like a different person."—Mrs. J. Milady's Boudoir Neck, Arms and Shoulders.

In the neck, arms and shoulders are the most critically exposed and most all their sweet and seductive sensuality. It is here that the graceful rounding of the female form is so often conspicuously absent. In the face the complexion, the play of features, the thing that makes for beauty, but when we come to consideration of the neck, shoulders and arms, we look for form and line rather than for color.

Flexion, full, firm and lustrous, lends it over these celestial regions of female anatomy. Muscular fiber, with the right sufficiency of fat to round off the angles and fill in the odd corners, is the beauty dressing for the lines which lurk behind all female loveliness. This right roundness of lustrous neck, of snowy shoulders and dazzling arms that dangle as they move, is only obtainable by muscular development stimulated by judicious exercise. These tissues must be built up when lacking, or toned down when superfluous.

Most imperfect necks owe their imperfection to a pronounced prominence of the thyroid gland, where muscular tissues and fat should be, and these unfilled hollows above and below the collar bone, are known to many as salt cellars.

Arms and shoulders can only become beautiful by being continuously put through the uses for which they were designed. Arms which do nothing but swing idly and mechanically when their owners walk, are certain to remain little else but skin and bone. It is perfectly useless to look for perfection in arms which is never called upon to perform any of the functions for which it was designed. Exercise, and plenty of it, is the only cure for scraggly and angular shoulders and neck.

Our Boys and Girls

I am always sorry for the woman who constantly sighs and says: "They didn't do it that way when I was a girl." I am sorry for her because she has never grown in intelligence since she was a little girl.

If her children romp home from school, fresh with new ideas on ventilation, she will find a new method of spelling their words; this self-same woman will hold up her hands and exclaim that they didn't do it that way when she was a girl and she doesn't see that it is any better the way they do it now.

She cannot see that, while she has supposedly grown in intelligence for 30 years, the whole system of things has changed. She is one of the kind of woman who cannot understand her daughter's desire to understand instead of polka, and she is the kind to nag, and fusses and tries at all times to turn the hands of time backward.

Don't be this kind of a woman, for the sake of your children and for the sake of progression. Except things as they are and adjust yourself to the trend of the times. Study with your children. Don't be afraid of their teaching you something. Let them think that while they are learning you are learning too.

Everyday Etiquette

"Is it proper for a lady to stand when being presented to a gentleman, and should she extend her hand in greeting?" asked Mabel.

"She need not rise unless the man is a great deal older than she is, and she extends her hand first, unless it is a young man, when she merely bows," said her older sister.

MIX RELIGION WITH BUSINESS IS PLEA

Forty-six of the men's Bible class of the West Side Church of Christ were addressed last night by E. R. Root, of the A. I. Root company, of Medina, the largest bee supply company in the United States.

His subject was "Mixing Religion and Business." The address was an appeal for the application of the principles of the sermon on the Mount to the business affairs.

He outlined the plan adopted by this company and of the gratifying results that followed, and the absence of factory trouble.

Mr. Root was available for this address because he is giving a series of lectures at Ohio State university this week. His wives, and lectures extensively in connection with his bee industry.

After the address the men enjoyed an oyster supper and there was no limit set as to the number of times a man might pass his box.

While here Mr. Root visited the Weiland green house and very much enjoyed going over with the management the methods employed. To friends, he spoke in the highest terms of the ability of Mr. Weiland, who has charge of the plant.

Chicago Grain Review.
 Chicago, Jan. 9.—Selling on the part of seasonal traders who were endeavoring to participate in a break in prices not unusual at this time of the year had a bearish effect today on the corn market. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2c off to 1/2c advance with May 1/38 1/2, 1/2c and July 1/34 1/2, were followed by a decline all around to well below yesterday's finish.
 Oats weakened with corn. Speculators led the selling. After opening unchanged to 1/4c higher, including May at 8 1/2c, the market underwent a moderate retreat.
 Provisions were lifted by the strength of the hot market. Owing to grain weakness, however, the advance was not well maintained.

Ancients Had Much Wisdom.
 A great civilization flourished in the valley of the Nile some three thousand years B. C. These Egyptians worshipped the dung beetle, the scarabaeus, possibly recognizing its scavenging powers. The wall of Joseph, near the great pyramid, is excavated through nearly three hundred feet of solid rock. The ancient Hebrews were the founders of real public health. The laws of Moses, who was born about 1850 B. C., the first hygienic code known, apply about as well today as when first promulgated.

First Motion Pictures.
 The motion picture was experimented with and test exhibitions were privately given in both this country and Europe in the early nineties, though it was not until 1895 that the invention had so far advanced as to make a public exhibition practicable. The latter part of that year they were exhibited in Europe and America.

The Best Way.
 If the shoe of anything is good for anything, it is a shoe of sincerity; it is better, for any man, than a shoe of dissimulation. It is not that which is not, but because he thinks it good to have such a quality as he pretends to. For to counterfeits and dissimulation is to put on the appearance of some real excellence. Now the best way in the world for a man to seem to be anything, is really to be what he would seem to be.

Would Have Changed History.
 One would have said that the most momentous event of 1793 was the fall of the Bastille. Yet, on a summer day of the same year a young artillery officer, bathing in the Saone river, was seized with cramps and nearly drowned. If he had drowned, Napoleon Bonaparte would never have added a single line to the history of Europe.

Kept Ignominy in Memory.
 On the 5th of November, in 1500, Christopher Columbus, in spite of the incalculable services he had rendered to Spain, was taken into Cadiz in fetters. King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella were moved at the sight and commanded that he be released. Columbus, however, was unable to forgive the insult, and until the time of his death the ignominious fetters were hung in full sight on his walls as a reminder of the ingratitude of his sovereigns.

Ranked High in Literature.
 "O. Henry," whose real name was William Sydney Porter, was born at Greensboro, N. C., in 1862. After leaving school he spent a number of years wandering in the southern and southwestern states, and engaged in a varied journalistic career. He finally settled in New York city, where some of his best works were written. For some time he was a fugitive in South America because of financial difficulties in which he became involved. He died June 3, 1910.

Ungallant Oldtimers.
 An old paymaster text, recently unearthed in Egypt, shows a strong bias against women. After citing a long series of unfortunate happenings in history, it bluntly charges all of them directly to the conduct and influence of woman. Then it goes on to say that if she have wealth for her ally in wickedness, the evil is double. The last line of the fragment is not entirely legible, but appears to be of the same general tenor.

EFFICIENCY

EFFICIENCY suffers while the world argues peace, wages and working conditions—and its as true of a bank as other businesses. Let us all pull together for efficiency.

This bank refuses to be blinded by the small things near at hand and not see the very big things just before it. It is a satisfying way of looking at things, too. Its efficiency today lies in its desire to co-operate with "Business" and render the all-round financial help that Business wants. That is the basis on which its solicits accounts.

HUSBAND GAVE WIFE MEDICINE FOR HER GROUCH

Said She Was Cranky, Never Slept Well and Had Indigestion.

WIFE TELLS ABOUT IT

"My husband brought home a bottle of Earle's Hypo-Cod several days ago, and said for me to take it as I was getting so cranky he could hardly live with me, and I surely needed it for I was having all sorts of trouble with my stomach and digestion. I was so weak and worn out I could hardly do my housework and nights. I just couldn't sleep. I would often lie awake until two or three in the morning, tossing and rolling on account of my nervous system. Mrs. Vera U. Kluepfel, of Columbus, Ohio.

FEELING FINE AGAIN.
"Since I took the Earle's Hypo-Cod I can eat anything I want to and nothing disturbs or disturbs my stomach now. My nerves are in fine shape and I sleep splendid every night without ever waking up. I also have used Earle's 59's and they are delightful little bowel and liver tablets, never giving the slightest bit of trouble or griping. You can say that I praise Earle's Hypo-Cod to everyone and have already recommended it to several friends," continued Mrs. Kluepfel, 73 Blenkner Street, Columbus, Ohio.

Many a husband has put his wife in good health again and made her happy and done the same for her husband, and this is often necessary for lots of folks are so adverse to taking medicines that even a tonic never suggests itself. If any member of the family needs more strength, energy, better appetite, digestion and blood, come down to the drug store tonight and get a couple of bottles of this famous building, reconstructive tonic.

The genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns. Price $1.25 plus 5¢ war tax.

MRS. RICHARDSON DID NOT WEARY IN WELL DOING

Kept On Taking Nerv-Worth Till It Banished Rheumatism and Stomach Ills.

This eloquent endorsement came from Mrs. W. M. Richardson, wife of the N. and W. train dispatcher, Bluefield, W. Va.

"I had been suffering with rheumatism for several months. I tried doctor's medicines, but did not get any relief. My stomach got so deranged and I had indigestion so that I was miserable. I saw Nerv-Worth advertised and I decided to try it. I have taken five bottles of Nerv-Worth and am happy to say I am ENTIRELY RELIEVED of the rheumatism and my stomach doesn't bother me now. I can conscientiously recommend Nerv-Worth.

WARREN MAN HAS RECOMMENDED IT TO HIS FRIENDS.

Often Had to Get up Five or Six Times During the Night on Account of Kidney Trouble.

Since Taking the New Medicine Drecto, Sleeps All Night Long and is in Good All Round Shape.

"I am 82 years old and have lived in Warren all my life and I think every one in town knows me well," declared Mr. C. C. Downs of 702 South Main street.

"For some time I've suffered from my kidneys; and awful backache, pains in my limbs, arms and ankles; some nights I'd have to get up five and six times. I also had a stomach trouble which was very annoying, for gas would swell me up and my food would do me no good. I often had indigestion; my bowels were constipated so that I took medicine for them all the time; I couldn't sleep much; in fact I was pretty well run down in every way.

"As soon as I read about this new medicine Drecto, I got a bottle for I always had faith in root and herb medicines. Drecto did not disappoint me either for in a few days I could feel some relief. I am now feeling better than in a long time; don't have to get up at night any more; bowels move regularly; my nerves are quieted so that my sleep is sound and refreshing. My stomach is stronger for I don't have the gas nor indigestion any more. Drecto did so much for me I have already recommended it to several of my friends, who say they are going to take it too."

Drecto is composed of the juices and extracts of many different roots, herbs, barks and leaves which act on the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels and purify the blood. It relieves constipation, prevents gas forming in the stomach, increases the appetite, insures sound refreshing sleep, banishes the tarr of the head and takes the pain out of rheumatic joints.

All good druggists now sell Drecto and it is highly recommended in Newark by Evans' Cut Rate drug store.—Advt.

Here is a New and Modern Candy Which Helps Complexion

Many Women Owe Fine Complexions to Candy Antiseptic.

To the delicious, palatable little Partola candies of peppermint flavor many women owe, in great measure, the beautiful complexions they possess. Partola candies are known to their thousands of users as "The Doctor in Candy Form." They possess both laxative and antiseptic properties, therefore accomplish a double purpose.

First: They remove the many afflictions of the digestive organs which result in pimply, blotched skins and ruined complexions. They do all that any laxative can do—and do it gently and effectively.

Then: They exert a very valuable antiseptic action on the whole digestive tract and tend to overcome the millions of disease germs which breed there and render the stomach and bowels pure and antiseptic.

Partola candies are liked by every one—young and old—because of their delicious taste and mild, easy antiseptic action. All druggists sell them in 25c, 50c and $1.00 boxes. Get yours today from your druggist.

Presiding Elder

Feels Ten Years Younger

Rev. W. H. J. Powell, presiding elder of the Fortyeck District West Arkansas Conference, Camden, Arkansas, says "One of my parishioners recommended Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets to me and I thank God I found this remedy for I really believe I should have died had I not found it. My strength has been restored and I feel ten years younger. Before I used Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets, I used to be so weak, at times I had to hold on to the pulpit while delivering my sermons. There were nights when the slightest noise would awaken me as the closing of a door or the flapping of a window shade. I was nervous, had lost control of my bowels, and sometimes it seemed as though there was no feeling in my lower limbs." Sold by Druggists at 60 cents. Special (Stronger more Active 90 cents).

Tuesday: American Motor vs. Heisey.
B. & O. vs. Midland.
Thursday: Holophane vs. Wehrli.
The railroaders and the stove men met for the first time last night in the opening game. The guarding was close on both sides and the scoring was held down. Wehrli had the edge on the B. & O. during the first half and it ended with score Wehrli 4 and B. & O. 3. In the closing half the rail men came back strong and played faster ball with the result that scoring became a bit easier. Goodwin located the rim in this period for three counts. Mayor of the Wehrli squad was unable to register at all, while Jim McCarthy tallied twice. Final score B. & O. 13 B. & O. 13.

The second contest brought the Midland and the Holophane teams together for the first time, and for the last game of the first round in the industrial league schedule. Holophane scored early and soon made the count four but McElroy, for the opponents dropped two long ones in the rim and tied the score. From then on it was a neck and neck race for points. At the end of the half the score stood Midland 8, Holophane 4. Midland again took the lead in the opening of the final period. Pagel found himself and scored two. Adams got all the points for the glass men in this half and registered five points. Though playing a little better in the second half than the first, the Holophane boys were unable to cut down the lead of the shoe men and they lost the game with a score of 9 to 16.

UTICA GIRLS OUT O' LUCK; SUNDAY ICE CREAM BANNED
Utica girls are going to be all out of luck. The mayor, G. W. Smoots, has gone and issued an order closing the ice cream parlors on Sunday. What's the use of having a beau if he can't even buy you a box of candy or an ice cream soda when he comes to spend Sunday evening?
Seems like that is all he will be able to spend is the evening because in connection with the Sunday closing order issued by the mayor he further stipulated that the movies must be closed on Sunday. Also all saloons and pool rooms. But who cares about loafing in a saloon Sunday or any other day now. Also all "sting um" games are put under the ban, but on any day but Sunday you may be able to win a little something on the "punch board" as they are allowed to stay for a while longer.

HANOVER METHODISTS.
The pastor, Rev. J. Emory Walter, will preach at 10 o'clock at the Sunday school and Bible study at 9:15 a. m. In the evening at 7 o'clock Rev. Dr. Franklin McElfresh, district superintendent, will preach. (All services on Eastern time last time.) The official board will meet at 7 on Monday evening. Special evangelistic services will begin on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

What Will Happen When The Railroads Go Back?

Will lower wages, the present scale, or even higher wages, be paid to employees? Will freight and passenger rates be increased? Will the public enjoy better service? These are a few of the questions that are current in the minds of the American public since the announcement of President Wilson that the railroads will be returned to their owners on March 1st.

THE LITERARY DIGEST in its leading article in the issue of January 10th, presents a comprehensive survey of the railroad question. It gives the arguments pro and con for private control, for government ownership, for the installation of the Plumb plan, etc. The article is graphically illustrated with pertinent cartoons on various phases of the situation.

Challenge of Indian Accepted After Dramatic Conclusion to Wrestling Program at Auditorium.

The men are to wrestle to a finish best two falls in three. The money was posted and articles were signed today and the match will take place at the Auditorium the ater two weeks from last night, Thursday, Jan. 22.

In the Bowser-LaDue match the men were about even on weights and the first fall went 26 minutes and 9 seconds. Bowser winning with a crotch and cradle. Bowser won the second fall in 25 minutes and 5 seconds in the same manner. The Canadian was aggressive and gave a very good account of himself.

William Gallagher, local welter weight, weighing 145 pounds, met George Pappas, the Greek, weighing 143. Pappas won the first fall in 14 1/2 minutes with an arm lock and Gallagher the second in 9 1/2 minutes with a crotch and cradle. The men wrestled the remaining six minutes without a fall and immediately signed articles to wrestle to a finish best two falls in three, no time limit, at the Auditorium Thursday, Jan. 22.

Vance Wallace and Alva Lockwood wrestled for 15 minutes without either securing a fall. The men weighed 142 pounds each.

Clarence Miller and John Matz opened the exhibition with a lively round which went two and a half minutes. Miller pinning Matz's shoulders to the mat with an arm lock.
Just as Bowser finished throwing the Canadian the second fall Chief War Eagle, LaDue's manager, jumped into the ring and called Bowser yellow for not taking him on and agreed to throw Bowser in less than five minutes. Bowser made a little curtain talk, stating that he was tired after his match with LaDue, but to prove that he was not yellow he would take on the Indian. The Indian suddenly grabbed Bowser, walked to the edge of the mat and slammed the local boy on the floor. Bowser apparently was stunned. The Indian picked Bowser up and carried him to the center of the mat and pinned his shoulders to the mat.
The Halladay offer was then made and the men will wrestle for a $1000 purse in two weeks, winner take all.

AUDITORIUM.

"The Safety Curtain."
Kipling's India has been brought to the screen! What a world of satisfaction there is in the thought! To see, pulsating in visualized form, the people immortalized in Plain Tales from the Hills, "Under the Deodars," and in "The Story of the Gadsbys"—this means much for thousands of Kipling lovers. It is not, to be sure, the characters from Kipling's novels of which we speak; but the people and the scenes in the famous hill country of which Kipling wrote. It is these that have been brought to the screen.

Norma Talmadge it is who has performed this service to the hundreds of thousands of people who have delighted in Kipling's stories. In "The Safety Curtain," Miss Talmadge's latest select picture which will be shown at the Auditorium theater today and Saturday, in India. Here it is that we pick up Kipling's trail.

First in Bombay, on the coast, and afterwards in the hill country at Simla, for it is Simla that the English officer, portrayed by Eugene O'Brien, sends his young wife when the season of rains and fever sets in. And it was at Simla that Kipling's most famous stories were laid. The young wife in this case is portrayed by Norma Talmadge, and the many admirers of Miss Talmadge will find sentimental satisfaction in seeing her graceful form moving through scenes which might well be laid in Pellini's hotel.

Pathe News is also shown.
An extra added feature is seen together with Norma Talmadge Saturday at the Auditorium in "The Zarzoleers," a musical novelty. This feature will be held over Sunday also and is the added feature with Wallace Reid, who appears in the Paramount picture, "The Source." A comedy, Pathe News and other features are also promised.

"The Source."
Wallace Reid has one of the best parts of his career in Van Twiller Yard, the young man who comes back in "The Source," the latest Paramount picture in which he is starred and which will be shown at the Auditorium theater next Sunday. The role affords an interesting study in psychology, but the development of the man, far from being morbid, always shows an upward trend and the optimistic and cheerful note is sounded throughout the picture.

Yard is a drunken loafer who is shanghaied and carried to a logging camp in Vermont. He is cruelly treated by a savage foreman and offers no resistance until Sven Nord casts a contemptuous glance at him in reward for his cowardice. He then resolves to reform and once the fumes of liquor have left him, his strength and courage return with highly dramatic results. How he succeeds in transforming this girl's contempt to love is told in a series of thrilling scenes.

A comedy, also Pathe News is shown.

"Eyes of the World."
Clune's production of Harold Bell Wright's "The Eyes of the World," in nine sections, comes to the Auditorium for the three days commencing next Monday. This is said to be a most popular adventure story of the times and it shows characters whose adventures have thrilled 8,000,000 readers. You see the furious hand to hand combat of two rivals for the heart of a girl, one of California's highest cliffs. The kidnapping of Sibyl Andrea and the wild chase of the forest rangers in search of her; see the exciting escape of convict John Willard, and his pathetic flight in the San Bernardino mountains. See the blandishments of fashionable Mrs. Taine in her efforts to ensnare the young artist, Aaron King. You see one of the sweetest romances of our times. Three showings each day during the three day engagement, one at 2:30 p.m. and again at 7 and 9 p.m.

ALHAMBRA.
Madge Kennedy.
At the Alhambra today Madge Kennedy begins a two-day screening of her first 1920 Goldwyn feature, "Strictly Confidential," a story by Jerome K. Jerome and scenario by Rex Taylor. This is a comedy drama, and if it is to laugh, then you surely will want to see Miss Kennedy in this clever photoplay. A Prizma subject will also be shown and tomorrow a News feature is added.

"The Triflers."
How a pretty New York shop girl aspires to get an intimate view of real society life, how circumstances conspire in her favor and make her the central figure in a week-end party at the home of the leader of the fashion-able younger set, and how her illusions are shattered until she is glad to return to her modest home and her humble sweetheart are surrounding and forth in the newest Universal feature.

fied or rejected it. We cannot rewrite this treaty. We must take it without changes which alter its meaning, or leave it, and then, after the rest of the world has signed it, we must face the unthinkable task of making another and separate kind of treaty with Germany. But no mere assertions with regard to the wish and opinion of the country are credited. If there is any doubt as to what the people of the country think on this vital matter, the clear and single way out is to submit it for determination at the next election to the voters of the nation, to give the next election the form of a great and solemn referendum, a referendum as to the part the United States is to play in completing the settlements of the war and in the prevention in the future of such outrages as Germany attempted to perpetrate.

"We have no moral right to refuse now to take part in the execution and administration of these settlements that we had to refuse to take part in the fighting of the last few weeks of the war which brought victory and made it possible to dictate to Germany what the settlements should be. Our fidelity to our associates in the war in question, and the whole figure of mankind. It will be heartening to the whole world to know that the attitude and purpose of the people of the United States.

"I spoke just now of the spiritual leadership of the United States, thinking of international affairs. But there is another spiritual leadership which is open to us and which we can assume. The world has been made safe for democracy but democracy has not been finally vindicated. All sorts of crimes are being committed in its name, all sorts of preposterous perversion of its doctrine and practice are being attempted. This in my judgment, is to be the great privilege of the democracy of the United States, to show that it can lead the way in carrying out the great social and industrial problems of our time, and lead the way to a happy settled order of life as well as to political liberty. The program for this achievement we must attempt to formulate, and in carrying it out we shall do more than can be done in any other way to sweep out of existence the tyrannous and arbitrary forms of power which are now masquerading under the name of popular government.

"Whenever we look back to Andrew Jackson, we should draw fresh inspiration from his character and example. His mind grasped with such a splendid definiteness and firmness the principle of national authority and national action. He was so indomitable in his purpose to give reality to the principles of the government, that this is a very fortunate time to recall his career and to renew our faithfulness to the principles and the pure practices of democracy. I rejoice to join you in this renewal of faith and purpose. I hope that the whole evening may be of the happiest results as regards the fortune of our party and the nation."

COMPROMISE ON TREATY IS URGED BY BRYAN

Washington, Jan. 9.—A split between President Wilson and William J. Bryan over whether the league of nations should be made an issue at the coming election topped off the Jackson day deliberations of the Democratic party chiefs.

President Wilson, in his message read to the diners, assembled in two separate halls, declared that the "clear and single way out" is to submit the question to the voters as "a great and solemn referendum."

Mr. Bryan, showing all the old-time vigor with which he led the fight for the president's nomination at Baltimore in 1912, declared that the Democratic party could not go before the country on the issue, because it has not a definite lay of 14 months and meant success only if the Democrats captured a two-thirds majority of the senate. The party, Mr. Bryan declared, must "secure such compromises as may be possible."

Mr. Bryan said: "If I know the American people, they will never transfer to any foreign nation the right to say who our boys shall be conscripted."

The disagreement between the president and his former secretary of state, the first in public view since Mr. Bryan left the cabinet because he did not agree with the president's course Germany, was thus disclosed as a fact, although it has been rumored and reported in the underground current of national politics. In the opinion of the political leaders it crystallized an issue

Don't worry about perfect results. Use "Diamond Dyes," guaranteed to give a new, rich, fadeless color to any fabric, whether it be wool, silk, linen, cotton or mixed goods—dresses, blouses, stockings, skirts, children's coats, feathers, draperies, coverings.

The Direction Book with each package tells so plainly how to diamond dye over any color that you can not make a mistake.

To match any material, have druggist show you "Diamond Dye" Color Card.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

AMUSEMENTS.

Charles Arling, Arthur Shirley, Otita Otis, Colin Kenny, Arthur Hoyt, Madge Lane, and little Benny Alexander are other Universal favorites in the cast. Bray's Pictograph is also seen.

"Oh, Boy," which Manager Fenberg has booked for exhibition at the Alhambra theater on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday is said to represent the only really successful attempt ever made to translate to the screen the complete story of a modern up-to-date "girlie-girlie" musical comedy hit. For from start to finish, "Oh, Boy" is just one succession of laughter-provoking, ludicrous, farcical situations, yet maintaining the romantic story of the original musical comedy production. The film version of "Oh, Boy" is the stage version pictured, the only variations made being those which were absolutely necessary and incident to the translation from stage to screen.

AUDITORIUM-ALHAMBRA NOTES.
Mr. Geo. Fenberg has made a change in his arrangement of Sunday picture programs at his theaters for instead of "The Triflers" playing the Auditorium, it will be screened at the Alhambra and Wahago Reid in "The Source" will be shown at the Auditorium.

"The Triflers," a six-reel Universal feature in which Edith Roberts is the star, is the Alhambra feature for Sunday and in the cast besides that star are seen David Butler, Forest Stanley, Benny Alexander, Katherine Kirkman, Arthur Shirley, Arthur Hoyt, Lillian Langdon, Frederick Vroom, Neil Craig, Colin Kenny, Madge Lane, Charles Arling, Otita Otis and others. Bray's Pictograph is an added feature.

Clever Norma Talmadge is shown at the Auditorium today and tomorrow in a Select Picture Photoplay called "The Safety Curtain," the only variations of the same name by Ethel M. Dell. In the cast besides the star is seen Eugene O'Brien, Anders Randolph, Gladys James, Lillian J. Hall and others. Pathe News is seen also and tomorrow a special musical novelty is promised.

The Alhambra today and tomorrow offers Madge Kennedy in "Strictly Confidential," a Goldwyn feature. The story is by Jerome K. Jerome, with scenario by Rex Taylor. The cast is a good one. Prizma, the reel wonderful, is again seen as an added feature to this photoplay.

The Auditorium tomorrow offers an exceptionally good added feature to the program in Phil Lyon's "Zaragoza," four boys of wonderful musical merit. A big feature is seen at the Auditorium next Monday in Clune's Cinema production of Harold Bell Wright's "The Eyes of the World." This is said to be a wonderful photoplay and the engagement will be for three days, with a matinee daily and two night showings each evening.

LYRIC.
The Lyric bill changes this evening to "At Atlantic City." The Wells Comedy company has proven itself an exceptionally clever organization, and if this bill proves as good as the two predecessors the patrons will be glad if they see it. The motion picture, "The Masked Rider" will be on the screen.

GRAND.
Eugene O'Brien is seen in his first Seiznick Picture, "The Perfect Lover," adapted from Lila Burton Wells' novel, "The Naked Truth," this evening at the Grand theater.

"The Perfect Lover" is the story of an artist, a worshipper of beauty. He becomes the rage among the smart set in New York. No woman can resist his charms. He is the perfect lover. In addition will be shown a Christie special, "The Roman Blanders." Tomorrow Billy Duncan in "Smashing Barriers," Harry Pollard in "Order in the Court," and Montgomery and Rock in "Vamps and Varieties."

GEM.
Duncan Hart, society man and prominent amateur boxer, was killed by a shot from a revolver. The weapon was in his wife's hand when the shot was fired. The question bothering the police was—did she kill her own husband? The only witnesses were a society woman who had been the guest of the Harts during the evening and "Toad" Jennings, a dove fiend. They had sprung upon Mrs. Hart when she raised her weapon at Mr. Hart in an effort to disarm her and in the scuffle that followed the revolver was discharged and Hart fell dead.
